

Reselling AI Services: Margins Without the Delivery Team

You own the sales. The provider owns the heavy lifting.

Reselling means you bill the client and the provider bills you.

The margin is the spread between those two invoices.

Contracts matter more than models: scope, uptime, and liabilities.

Delivery stays light because you run a verification layer, not a build.

Start with one provider you can test end to end.

Comment "RESELL" for the math.
