

E-E-A-T Cheat Sheet: The Experience Signal

The one everyone skips

Experience is the most underused E-E-A-T signal because it requires actually doing the thing you write about.

First-hand experience is uncopyable. AI can replicate expertise phrasing but not the detail of personal involvement.

Show process, not just results. Screenshots, named tools, specific steps, and honest mistakes signal real experience.

Author bios that describe hands-on work outrank generic credential lists in quality evaluations.
